With Gratitude

St. Magdalene of Canossa was born into the Marchesi Canossa family in Verona on 1 March 1774. Aware of the needs of the city's poor and guided by a profound religious search, she chose to serve God in dedication and service to the poor.

On 8 May 1808, upon leaving the wealth and security of Palazzo Canossa, she started the Institute of the Canossian Daughters of Charity with some companions and began the Charity Schools for children in Verona. Her belief was that every child reflects God and intent. She recognised that the education received by our children produces the fruits – the formation of the heart, the enlightening of the mind and the empowering of the spirit.

As we reflect on the academic year that has passed, we give thanks to God for our Canossian Sisters who love, care and pray for our children. We are blessed to have our Canossian educators who live out Foundress' mission in the guiding and teaching of our children. We are grateful for all our children whom we have witnessed grow and blossom; our children who have been blessed to be a blessing. And we give thanks for our parents who have journeyed with us hand in hand.

On 1 March 2023, we started our year-long thanksgiving for the 250th anniversary of Mother Foundress, St. Magdalene of Canossa, themed Accendi La Vita which means Set Life on Fire. Having experienced many meaningful school activities throughout the year, our children's lives have been filled with love and their passion has been ignited to make wherever they are a loving place with their words and deeds.

With hearts of gratitude, we look forward to 2024 – a year with so much potential for us to continue to grow as daughters and sons of Canossa in the Canossian mission that Mother Foundress has inspired.

Family Fun for the Holidays

Quality time with your children can be as simple as taking a short break to do a meaningful activity together. Encourage your child to explore their strengths and interests to boost their self-esteem and independence. Whether you intend to stay home or head outdoors, here are some suggested activities:

Does your child want to give back to the community as a leader of hope and a sower of change?	When we involve our children to give back to the community, they understand the values of compassion and empathy. If your child wishes to do more, check out volunteer opportunities at these non-profit organisations and charities.
Does your child love to sing and make music?	Music improves our mood and reduces stress. You can play karaoke versions of holiday favourites and your child can learn the lyrics to them.
Does your child like reading different genres of books?	Check out some book recommendations suitable for all Primary School levels from the National Library Board (NLB) at https://childrenandteens.nlb.gov.sg/book-recommendations/recommend-primary/
Does your child like to draw, paint, or sculpt?	Ignite your child's creativity by introducing them to art & craft activities! It's not always necessary to get new materials. Challenge them to use recycled or existing items at home. Immerse your child in the world of art at a visit to the museum. If you're feeling more adventurous, try a public art walking trail (https://www.roots.gov.sg/places/places-landing/trails/public-art-walking-trail/)!
Does your child enjoy helping in the kitchen?	Bring your child out for a picnic! You can get them involved in helping to prepare yummy picnic meals and encourage creativity in plating.
Is your child curious and full of energy?	Explore Sentosa Island through home-based activity sheets to discover flora and fauna! Find out more about their resident animals and heritage sites and try to spot them when you visit Sentosa.

Be physically and emotionally present when you spend quality time with your child. Showing an interest in the things that matter to them will help you understand each other better and strengthen parent-child bonds. Whatever the activity, it is about building beautiful memories and strengthening the bond with your child. Happy Holidays!
